Who's won in Winnipeg?
 Friday, the 13th of June, looms up somewhat ominously.
 The Senate refused to be bored by Senator Borah's reading of the 100,000-word peace treaty.
 In proportion as the size of the American army in Europe diminishes, the German roar of protest over the treaty increases.
 It may be said of story-writer William D. Pelley of St. Johnsbury that he doesn't wait long enough for the grass to grow under his feet.

If a woman charged with murder were permitted the freedom of her own home and otherwise coddled by authorities in Vermont, as a certain woman is treated in Massachusetts, it would be considered almost scandalous and, at least, an exhibition of simple-mindedness.

One reads in the news columns that the driver of an automobile, the lights of which had gone out, decided to continue the short distance to his home without lights one night recently, with the result that he drove his vehicle against the rear of a team with such force as to do considerable damage. The driver of the motor vehicle was taking a lot of chances and fell a victim to one of them.

No one has yet publicly accused the Germans of making the "leak" on purpose to stir up the internal animosities of us Americans. Nevertheless, such a thing should be considered as among the possibilities, if not among the probabili-ties. But whether or not the Germans were connected with the scheme, there is no doubt that the Germans are immen-sely pleased over the ruction which has been created in the United States, chiefly in the Senate.

The late John C. Spooner, former senator from Wisconsin and eminent lawyer, was one of the most forceful figures in recent history of the United States and he contributed greatly to the progress of events during the several decades in which he served the public. Latterly he had been out of public life to a great extent but the impress of his life and his acts was quite strongly felt. Would that there were more men of the stamp of ex-Senator Spooner in our public life to-day!

The rough-and-tumble rush of the states to ratify the woman's suffrage constitutional amendment is started by Illinois and Wisconsin. It looks now as if Vermont will be one of the last to ratify, not because of lack of sympathy with the movement but because of the fact that it will be nearly two years before the legislature convenes and it is not deemed expedient to call a special session just for the purpose of taking up the constitutional amendment. In due time Vermont will ratify the amendment.

BOARDS OF TRADE AND THE FARM INDUSTRY.

The newly organized Board of Trade in the town of Chelsea proposes to devote some of its energies to the development of the farm interests of its surrounding territory, and the purpose is very well chosen inasmuch as Chelsea is largely dependent upon the agricultural life of its own town and of the surrounding towns. It is to be hoped that such an impetus may be given to farm interests that the effects may spread out not only over Chelsea but over some of Chelsea's neighboring towns, like Corinth, Topsham and some parts of Orange.
 There is great need of new invigoration in the farming sections of those towns, and if the influence of the Chelsea Board of Trade becomes powerful enough to be effective in those communities, as well as in its own, the results will be well worth the effort put into the organization. It would be a splendid thing to have the farms, now abandoned, occupied once more and brought back to a state of good productivity. Chelsea, let it be added, would be a material gainer through the added business that would flow through its channels of business.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Goddard's Status in Interscholastic Meet.

Editor, Barre Times: The article printed in yesterday's issue from a Brattle-borough paper in regard to the interscholastic track meet is as far from the truth as black is from white. Goddard has competed in this meet five times and has won four times. The cup is to be held permanently by the team that wins it three times in succession. Goddard won in 1915 and 1916. The next two years the meet was not held. This year I was informed by Dr. Burns, chairman of the athletic committee at the University of Vermont, that the high schools had notified him that they would not send a team to the meet this year if Goddard was going to be represented.
 They claimed that Goddard was out of their class.

He also told me that Goddard had a fine standing at the university, that he would give us a track meet on another day with the winner of the class meet in the university, and that we should keep the cup which we now held until it was won from us by some other team.

Goddard has always observed the regulations of every meet in which she has participated. She did not refuse to abide by the regulations of the meet this year, and she was told to keep the cup. The boys go to Burlington next Friday afternoon for the track meet with the freshmen, who recently won the inter-class meet.

Most Useful of Them All

There never was and never will be a better way of getting about town than on a bicycle. It's no effort to pedal a mile in 5 minutes. No motor trouble.
 No cost. No waiting for trolleys. No car crowding and crushed toes. And bicycling is the greatest fun there is.
 Great for health—great for strength—great for economy.

For 30 years the Iver Johnson has ranked first. First in speed, in strength, in durability and in beauty. It's made of seamless steel tubing. Bearings are perfect in design and exquisite in workmanship. 5 coats of hand rubbed enamel and heavy nickel plate over copper.
 Prices $30 to $55.

The Balance of Power Old World politics has been for centuries directed and sustained by secret treaties, with a view to the maintaining of what is known as "The Balance of Power." The brief intervals of peace which followed wars among States were the result of the shifting of this "Balance of Power." Present-day civilization asks for a more stable guarantee against the aggression of selfish and designing governments, and so we are endeavoring to formulate an international code of ethics, called "A League of Nations," which shall bring diplomacy into the open and have proper regard for the rights of weak nations.
 Whether this idea can be worked out successfully and to the permanent good of mankind is a question which only time can answer, but if it can it will be a matter of universal satisfaction.
 There is another balance of power which should have our consideration, and that is the bank balance.
 Nations and political sub-divisions are only strong and prosperous as the people save. All capital has its origin with the savings of the people.
 Come to this strong National bank and open an account to-day. Grip the strong hand of this service-giving institution. It will help you over the rough places.

WAITSFIELD

H. M. Wait, Who Died Recently, Was Respected Citizen.

The funeral of the late H. M. Wait was held at his late home here on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. L. C. Carson of Montpelier officiating. A large representation of Mad River lodge, No. 77, F. and at Irasville, where the Masonic service was carried out in full. D. R. Bisbee officiated as master and W. A. Remle as chaplain. The bearers were E. S. Joslin, G. M. Jones, H. W. Belden and F. F.

 Wilder for the Masons, assisted by P. B.
 Gaylord and H. N. LaMorder. Among those attending from out of town were Frank Grundy of Middlesex and George Caustic and wife of Montpelier. H. M.
 Wait was born in Warren, April 25, 1841; the youngest child of William and Persia Wait. Mr. Wait lived most of his life in Waitsfield and was a quiet citizen and a good neighbor. He enlisted as a nine-month man in the 13th Vermont, but owing to poor health saw little active service. He was married Oct. 15, 1865, to Ella M. Parker, who alone survives him, with the exception of an own coun-sin, John Wait of Waterbury.
 The boy scouts had a genuine good time on Thursday afternoon when A. E.

Farr, who has recently received his commission for appointment as scoutmaster, with Mr. Billings, took them for a swimming bout. The water was fine and an interested audience watched their sport.
 A large delegation from here attended the Congregational county convention at Warren on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. E.
 A. Fiske and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Joslin went as delegates. Among others were Mrs. A. B. Tucker, Mrs. B. D. Bisbee,
